Tennessee Deaf-Blind Project (TNDB) is a federally funded program that provides families, educators, and other professionals with information and training to help improve outcomes for individuals, from birth through age 21, who have a combined hearing and vision loss.

This is a FREE online parent training focusing on the "Role of Interveners in Educational Setting". It is primarily self-study but hosts are available to provide assistance. There will be several optional video sessions as well. The training will use Module 3 "The Role of Interveners in Educational Settings" from the Open Hands Open Access (OHOA) Deaf-Blind Intervener Learning Modules. Parents will work at their own pace but commit to 1-2 hours of training each week for 5 weeks.

Patti McGowan National Family Association for the Deaf and Blind (NFADB) and Peggy Malloy National Center on Deaf Blindness (NCDB) are hosting the training and will provide online support and feedback.

Parents will learn about:

- The role of interveners
- The principles of intervention
- How interveners function as members of student's educational teams
