Presenter: Kali Markle, AuD, CCC-A

Dr. Kali Markle is a Clinical Associate Professor of Audiology and a Pediatric Audiologist at Utah State University. A majority of her time is spent in the clinic supervising graduate students and seeing patients; however, she also teaches graduate academic courses. Dr. Markle provides diagnostic evaluations on children birth to 21 years of age, fits hearing aids, bone conduction devices, FM systems and works with cochlear implants. She oversees the newborn hearing screening programs at two hospitals and helps fit and maintain FM systems at some of the charter schools in Cache Valley. Dr. Markle is a California native who is enjoying more time spent outdoors with her rescue husky, Logan.
