Description Of Services: The Middle Tennessee Regional Resource Center (MTRRC) is one of three regional centers established across the state by the Tennessee Department of Education, Division of Special Education. These centers were created to provide information and guidance to teachers, administrators, parents and others who have or serve children with special needs. The center is staffed with educational consultants who provide a variety of services including technical assistance through management and compliance issues, and trainings in areas such as early childhood/preschool, secondary transition, behavior and autism services.
