Planning for Your Life

Peace of mind

Life Care Planning for life's transitions

We'll help you answer questions like:

- What is the difference between a Will and a Trust?
- Am I able to keep my home if I apply for Medicaid?
- What benefits are my aging parents eligible to receive? How do I apply for them?
- My father was in the Army and he is now in assisted living. Can he qualify for a VA pension?
- I keep getting conflicting information from different people. What's the right answer?
- What is the difference between Medicare and Medicaid?

Each client's situation is unique; therefore, we believe in creating customized solutions.
Come in for a visit and let's discuss your needs.

Elder Law of Middle Tennessee also offers these services to the elder and the elder's family.

BENEFITS PLANNING

Our practice works with our clients to evaluate their individual situation and determine the benefits they may be eligible to receive. Some of the most common planning includes Medicare (both traditional and HMO), Medicaid, and Veteran's Benefits.

In many cases, we find untapped benefits, which provide cash at a time when the elder needs it most.

ESTATE PLANNING

Estate planning is essential in order to protect your assets, maximize your financial goals, and establish decision-making in the event of disability or illness. The best time to plan is before something happens. Our Estate Plans cover Powers of Attorney, which let you appoint someone to make important financial and health-related decisions for you, a Living Will, and Last Will and Testament.

We can help you set up a trust to secure and stretch your hard-earned assets.
